

JOSEPH DAHDAH (Ein Offizier)

Born in Zgharta in Lebanon in 1992, he began studying singing at the age of 12. He continued his studies in Rome with the soprano Raina Infantino and obtained a 1st and 2nd level diploma in opera singing, with full marks and honors, at the Briccialdi Institute of Music Studies in Terni, under the guidance of the medium. soprano Ambra Vespasiani. Since 2020 he has been a member of the Young Artists Program of the Accademia del Maggio Musicale Fiorentino. He has participated in numerous Masterclasses with Richard Barker, Luca Salsi, Eva Mei, Bruno de Simone and Tatiana Chivarovai. She sang in various operas, oratorios, concerts and festivals in Lebanon, Italy, Germany, Venezuela, Poland, Czech Republic and Bulgaria. His last operatic performances were at the Teatro del Maggio Musicale Fiorentino in which he interpreted the Sergeant in the opera Siberia by Umberto Giordano at the Teatro del Maggio Musicale Fiorentino, under the conduction of Gianandrea Noseda, Barbarigo in I due Foscari by Giuseppe Verdi, together with Plácido Domingo, in the 84th Festival of the Maggio Musicale Fiorentino and Radamès in the Ayda, a reduction of Verdi's opera.